HUNTER TALKS.

The Doctor Gives Kentucky Republicans a Hint.

LOSS OF LIFE IN CRETE.

St. John Boyle's Friends Are Encouraged.

TWO LOGGERS LOSE THEIR LIVES.

A special from Washington to the Globe-Democrat puts the following into Dr. Hunter's mouth:

"Tis me, too, I can say. Until a Republican senator is elected, not appointed, but elected, no federal patronage or anything else will go to Kentucky. Maj. McKinley will put a southerner in the cabinet, and prefers one from a state which has gone Republican, but he may have to go elsewhere."

The Doctor tells that the senatorial election in this state will be settled within three weeks.

DESTRUCTION OF LIFE.

And Property on the Island of Crete by Fire.

Canes, Crete, Feb. 6.—A mountain forest fire has been raging on the island for a day or so and has resulted in much loss of life and property. To date there have been above eighty houses destroyed and 38 people burned to death. The Christian inhabitants are fleeing for their lives, but hundreds are hemmed in and doomed to a horrible death.

$1,000,000 COFFEE COMPANY

To Rival the Arbuckles--The People Will Benefit.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 6.—The American Singer Refining Company today organized the American Coffee Company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000. This is a continuation of the fight with the Arbuckles Coffee Company.

PERU RESPONDS.

Demand of the State Department Accepted.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Mr. Neill, the charge of the United States legation at Lima, Peru, has called the State Department that C. G. Treanor, mate of the American bark Uncle John, of San Francisco, has been released. Treanor was arrested in Lima in the latter part of December as a result of a street row, and failed to secure a trial. For this reason the State Department demanded his release.

A JUDGE IN DANGER.

Gratz Arnett Attempts to Shoot Judge D. H. Redwine, at Salyerville.

Paintsville, Ky., Feb. 6.—(Special to the Courier-Journal.)—Circuit Judge D. H. Redwine, of the Twenty-third Judicial District, came near being killed at Salyerville last night. Gratz Arnett went into his room at the hotel, and said:

"Judge, I used to think you my friend, but I do not now."

The Judge asked him to sit down, when Arnett, it is said, declared that things had to be different, and that somebody's blood had to flow. He is alleged to have drawn his pistol and pointed it at Judge Redwine. Morgan Salter jumped between the men and put a stop to the difficulty. Judge Redwine ordered Arnett arrested, but he made his escape.

It will be remembered that Arnett shot Braun MacFarland on the night of February 21, 1893, claiming it to be an accident. He also killed a negro at Salyerville about six years ago, but as there were no witnesses to the killing he claimed self-defense and was cleared by a Magoffin county jury. He was also acquitted for the MacFarland killing.

IMPLEMENT DEALERS FAIL.

A Hopkinsville Concern Goes to the Wall.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Feb. 6.—Late yesterday afternoon the firm of Wm. Free Brothers & Co., of this city large dealers in farm implements, made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, George H. Long, president of the First National Bank being made assignee. The firm has been regarded as shaky for some time, and the assignment was no surprise. The liabilities are believed to reach $20,000, while the assets, including notes and accounts, will be three times that amount. The failure was undoubtedly brought about by the large credit business done by the firm.

St. John Boyle and the Cabinet. Louisville, Feb. 6.—Friends of Hon. St. John Boyle are confident he stands an excellent showing to become Attorney-General in the McKinley cabinet. A committee of prominent Republicans visited Senator in his behalf a day or so ago, and National Committee man James F. Bowser, who headed the delegation, speaking of the matter, says: "We went as a Kentucky delegation to urge the selection of Mr. St. John Boyle as a member of the cabinet. Mr. McKinley desires a southern man in his official family and our visit was very favorable, to say the least. I do not care to say what was the exact reply we received. Of course, it was not positive one way or another."

Two Loggers Killed.

Middleborough, Ky., Feb. 5.—Two white loggers on the upper waters of the Kentucky river are reported to have been killed by an ice floe yesterday. The names and full particulars of the accident could not be learned.

Mrs. Beecher Dying.

New York, Feb. 6.—The reports from Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher this morning are to the effect that she is at the point of death and sinking rapidly. She can survive but a few hours at most.

Pope's Critical Illness Denied.

Rome, Feb. 6.—Reports have been sent out from here of the critical illness of the Pope. They are gross exaggerations. While his Holiness is not in good health there is nothing in his condition to excite alarm for the immediate future.

Killed By Falling Tree.

Tompkinsville, Ky., Feb. 6.—Tom Hall Bewing, a prominent farmer, while cutting timber yesterday afternoon, was accidentally killed by being caught under a falling tree.

Hanna to Be Senator.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 6.—Notwithstanding all reports to the contrary, it is believed here that Mark Hanna will be made United States Senator. Not much credence is placed in many of the reports concerning the matter sent out from Columbus and Cleveland.

Quadruplets Born.

Columb, Ky., Feb. 6.—The wife of Joe Perkins gave birth to quadruplets last night, all being boys and well developed, strong and healthy, and giving promise of living and thriving.

No one was hurt by the accident. There were quite a number of passengers aboard, and it is fortunate that the damage was so slight. Spreading rails occasioned the mishap.

Murder Last Night.

Mr. Albert James, a well known young Mechanicsburg plasterer, and Miss Zenith Rollins, also of that part of the city, were united in marriage last night at the residence of the bride.

DIED OF RABIES.

A Horse Attacked Several Months Ago Dies.

On last Monday night W. W. Nisbet, of Madisonville, lost a horse that died of rabies, says the Madisonville "Hustler."

About Christmas time Mr. Nisbet was watering the horse at a trough when a bird dog belonging to him grabbed the horse by the nose, biting the animal quite severely. This enraged the horse and caused him to attack the dog, which he did, killing the dog by biting and stamping it to death. The nose of the horse was

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD.

Proceedings of Their Convention in Session at Memphis.

J. F. Estes, of This City, Made One of Their Grand Officers—A Strong Order.

The Memphis "Commercial-Appeal" of the 3rd and 4th gives the following account of the session of the "Head Conventional Camp" of the Woodmen of the World:

The Woodmen of the World of Tennessee and Kentucky yesterday organized, through their delegates assembled here, what is known in that order as a "Head Conventional Camp." This body corresponds to grand lodges of other secret societies. This Head Camp has sovereignty over all of the camps of the two states.

Some time ago a convention was called to meet in this city for the purpose of establishing the Head Conventional Camp. Delegates come from all the cities in this state and Kentucky, where there is a W. O. W. Lodge. Quite a large number of them are in the city. They assembled in the Odd Fellows hall yesterday morning at 10 o'clock for the transaction of the business in hand.

T. B. Beattie, of this city, presented Deputy Sovereign Commander B. R. Sherman, of Vinton, Ia., and ex-governor of Iowa, who assembled the convention. The visitors were welcomed by Dr. G. B. Malone, of this city, in a neat and cordial speech. Dr. F. B. Stapp, of Chattanooga, responded to the address of welcome on behalf of the visiting delegates. A committee on credentials was appointed to report on the qualifications of those presenting themselves as delegates. And after that was done, the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The committee reported on the credentials of the delegates and then the convention proceeded to organize the Head Conventional Camp by the election of the following officers:

Past head consul, Dr. C. M. Roberts, of Whiteville, Tenn.; head consul commander, J. F. Estes, Paducah; H. A. L., Dr. Fred B. Stapp, of Chattanooga; head banker, J. M. Clark, of Knoxville; head clerk, Dr. A. B. Allen, of Nashville; head escort, G. W. Gladling, of Memphis; head watchman, J. L. Daniels, of Dyersburg; head sentry, L. W. Eader, of Brownsville; head managers, L. W. W. Corrington, of Memphis; J. M. Simons, of Jackson, Tenn.; S. L. Adams, of Chattanooga, and Sol Lucas, of Nashville.

T. B. Beattie, of this city, was elected delegate to the Sovereign Camp at St. Louis, which meets some time in March. By virtue of the position which he holds, the head consul commander, J. F. Estes, will be the other delegate to the International Sovereign Camp, Woodmen of the World meeting. After the selection of these officers Deputy Sovereign Commander Sherman, of Iowa, installed them.

The convention adjourned at 5 o'clock, and the entire body of delegates, escorted by the local members, visited the Memphis bridge and crossed over into Arkansas.

The Woodmen of the World is a new order which has made wonderful rapid progress since its organization and promises to take its place quickly by the side of the leading fraternal insurance orders. One of the grand officers being a citizen of Paducah no doubt the order will become very popular here.

MRS. ADDIE FIELDS.

The Well Known Temperance Lecturer in Paducah.

Mrs. Addie Fields, the well known temperance worker, and wife of a former pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here, arrived at noon today from Henderson, where she delivered several lectures.

She is guest of Mrs. Capt. Koger, and will remain in Paducah about ten days, delivering two lectures.

Mrs. Fields just recently returned from England, where she assisted Lady Somerset in temperance work.

badly torn, but it seemed to heal up in time.

Last Saturday Mr. Nisbet noticed that the horse was stiff and was not well. Sunday the horse became vicious and attempted to bite its owner who then fastened the animal in the stable. Monday the animal died in great agony.

There seems to be no doubt that the dog had the hydrophobia and that horse also had the same disease. Before the dog was killed he had bitten Mr. W. W. Showers on the leg, however the bite was not a serious one and was through the clothes. The skin was only slightly broken.

It is not thought that Mr. Showers is in any danger whatever from this cause as it is not believed that any of the virus entered his flesh.

One was and was through the clothes.

Robert Harris, a colored porter at the Jellem Hotel, at Metropolis, Ill., was shot four times in the abdomen and breast about 7 o'clock last night on a bridge near Vienna street by George Green, a colored barber of Metropolis's today about it.

The two men had an altercation over a woman yesterday, but did not come to blows. Last night Green overtook Harris on a small bridge and without a word emptied his revolver. All but one of the shots took effect and Harris will die from his wounds. He was found a short time after the shooting, that Green had escaped and little hope is entertained of his capture.

Marshall Crouch, of Metropolis, arrived from Marion, and went home this afternoon. He thinks Green will be captured.

Harris will no doubt die as the telegram to Marshall Collins states that Green is wanted for murder.

THREE OFFENDERS

And All of Them Got Fined This Morning.

Judge Sanders Had a Very Short Docket Today.

Ed Houston, colored, was arraigned in the police court this morning for throwing a lump of coal at Ed Jones, an employee at the Palmer House. Houston had been ordered to keep away from the hotel. He was fined $5 and costs, and wanted to swear out a warrant against Jones, but none was issued because there was no evidence against the latter.

The case against Kidd Reese, charged with maliciously cutting Martin Davis on the wrist a few nights since, was dismissed today and Reese was fined $20 and costs for a breach of the peace, while Davis drew a $5 mark.

An idea of the terrible fatality accompanying the bubonic plague now

The industrial hall of the great Stockholm fair is characterized as the greatest building ever constructed of wood. Wood was chosen as the material for the building in deference to the fact that lumber forms an important article of export from Norway and Sweden. The cupola rises 325 feet and it is located a cafe where the visitor may take his refreshments while taking a birds-eye view of the beautiful city of Stockholm.

Born the French and German governments are paying heavy bounties to beet sugar growers and have stimulated the industry wonderfully.

Higher bounties are paid for sugar exported in order to enlarge the market. They sell very heavily to the United States and this product will furnish the opportunity to open their markets more freely to our hog products under the reciprocity features of the tariff law. It is said a moderate tariff will be placed on sugar and this will furnish a most excellent means of obtaining concessions in a number of directions.

A bill has been introduced by Congressman Tracy to authorize the Secretary of War to detail a regiment each of infantry, artillery and cavalry to take part in the anniversary celebration of the battle of Wilson's Creek, which will be held at Springfield, Mo., on the 10th of August. It is proposed to celebrate by a sham battle and the troops are desired to participate. The battle of Wilson's Creek, fought by Gen.
Lyon, who lost his life there, was one of great importance in its results and well worthy of celebration. Men will come from the four corners of the earth to this re-union of the Blue and the Gray.

RIGHT AND WRONG BANKING.

Illustrated by Three Stories From

Lyman J. Gage.

It's present position before the country refutes anything bearing on the financial notions of Lyman J.

Gage of peculiar interest at this time. We therefore give place to the following from a Washington correspondent in the belief that it will be of interest. The first portion to be related as an example

"These stories," commented Mr.
Gage, as he finished, "carry their own suggestions."

Not long ago, at the close of its business year, the bank over which

Mr. Gage presides, the First National of Chicago, wiped off its credits

a list of bad debts which aggregated an amount up way in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. And yet the great institution carries a surplus equal to its capital stock, and is a dividend earner of healthy performance. The fact is, Mr. Gage applies what he preaches. He has applied to his business the suggestions which his stories carry. He keeps his money moving. He takes some risks. He accumulates some bad accounts. He more than offsets

these with the increased earnings which result from activity of his captial. If the bankers of the United States were all Lyman J. Gages these wouldn't be bad times.

The community was a proverb one generally. The farmers owned their lands and most of them had money in bank, and were quite free from debt. Seeing the loss which had fallen upon the community, it occurred to me that it was my duty to proceed immediately to collect all of the claims I had, and to refuse to lend to my customers, no matter how pressing their necessities or how great their likelihood of possibility. I suspected this course of a good deal of danger. I soon discovered that my deposits were falling rapidly. This was the only break in the community.

I found that all of the claims which

I held, and which were paid, were paid with checks on myself. They were obtained by my debtors from members of the community who had debt with me. In short, I discovered that I was putting my affairs

into a course of rapid liquidation.

Things went to a nest. I won back the confidence of the community, and was able to make my usual semi-annual dividends."

A "hard times" story Mr. Gage fostered on a Wisconsin banker whom he described as "a man of no firmness."

The coming Secretary of the Treasury is broad gauge.

REPORTED ELOPEMENT

Of Rev. Ned Forrest at Metropolis.

Supposed to Have Gone Away With a Pretty Widow.

Rev. Ned Forrest, a Congregationalist minister who held a four weeks' series of meetings at Metropolis at the various churches, there, has eloped with a pretty widow of the town, if reports are true.

His meetings just recently closed, and the preacher had become quite a favorite. Yesterday the suspicion of the elopement developed when both were missed, but whether or not it is true has not yet been learned.

Residents of Metropolis in the city today state that the entire city is agog over the rumor. The name of the young widow is not yet given out to the public. Neither can now be found, and that is the occasion of much excitement.

An Associated Press dispatch from Anna, Ill., says:

"The Rev. Edward Foucault, pastor of the Anna Congregational church, is missing. On Friday, January 22, he told his wife and a few friends that he was going to Pilsbys, Ill., to conduct a two weeks' revival service. He has not since been heard from, and all efforts to find him have failed."

The Rev. Mr. Forrest came to Anna about six months ago from El Reno, O. T., where he had charge of a mission church. He claims to be a reform gambler. He was popular in this city, and a few of his friends believe that he is a victim of foul play. Forrest has a wife and two children in Anna.

Forrest was first missed several days ago. When he left Metropolis it was said he was going to Smithfield, Ill., to hold a meeting.

He has a wife and two children at Anna, Ill., where he was pastor of the Congregational church, and hearing nothing from him for several days, and receiving no reply from her letters, which were returned to him marked "unclaimed," an investigation was made, resulting in the above disclosure. No trace of him or the young widow has been found,

Oliver Allard was lodged in jail at Metropolis at 7 o'clock last night, the Metropolis officers refusing longer to guard him, as he was unable to execute the $1500 bond yesterday.

Allard, as detailed in yesterday's Sun, was accused of criminally assaulting Mary Jane Liu, the 14-year-old daughter of Robert Liu, of Brooklyn, N.Y.

It is decided the most serious trouble Allard has been in since he resound his degradation has been for five years he did not drink, and was profligate well, but he married three or four years ago, and it is said that his young wife did all she could to drag him down and render his conduct and treatment of her such that she might easily get a divorce and alimony at the proper time. She finally brought suit, which is now pending in the Circuit court.

Whether his wife had anything to do with his late indiscretions or not, Allard has been a changed man since he married, and changed for the worse.

The prosecuting witness in the last case, Liu's girl, is a relative of the three Liu's who are now serving long terms at Chester for murder.

Allard's case is set for this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Metropolis.
